[22/01/18][17:01:19] -

Title: The End Has Come

Author: Drake Marsten

Nov 14, 1999
Related Quest:The Book of Truth

More bad news... The end has come.
Submitted by Drake
Marsten:

It seems I have become the messenger of bad news of late, I dont like it one bit and I am guessing that you
wont like this news
either.

This evening a wake
was held for Julia Simon at the Paladins
hall in Trinsic.
Friends and family
gathered to say goodbye. During the night a man came to the Hall, as he came closer I noticed it was the very same person who betrayed me to the Wraiths. He told us that he worked with the Thief that poisoned Julia. Right there and then we were ready to slay
this fellow, but before we had a chance to he explained his situation. The wraiths betrayed him and his associate, they decided to get even and stole some items from the wraiths. One of them was a journal entry made by Uuban the prophet of these wraiths. Here is what was written in the journal :

.. and all has gone according to plan. The evil one we hired followed those who sought the Tears to their meeting spot and alerted us to their location. As they began to move away from those who guard the Forest Creature, we awaited them in the forest to the north. We quickly descended on them as they approached and after a long chase brought down the one called Marsten and took from him the Tears of the Forest Oracle. A dark minion quickly set out for the tower in horseback with the Tears. By the time he arrived, mine other minions had returned through magical means and guarded him on his approach to the tower... he met no resistance on his journey back to the Dark Fortress.

Using a page torn from the Holy Text of Truth, I cast a spell breaking through the barrier of First Daughter had woven using Warp Stone and giving it over to the Skaven. The First Daughter can no longer use the power of the Warp Stone to hold closed the portal that will bring the Dark Father into this realm. Now I begin my purificaiton on the eve of the arrival of the Dark Father. I shall drink the blood of the one who worships Spirituality and bath in the Tears of the Forest Oracle. The shards of souls we have taken await my words and will be the power for the summoning.

On the eve of the day of the Sun we will gather at the Holy Place with our allies and summon forth the Dark Father, and the destruction of this realm. As the stars rise to 9 in the Eastern sky the time of the summoning will be upon us. The Holy Place must be kept secret for if I am slain, the spell could be broken and fail... and all our work be for naught. Today we rejoice for tomorrow the Dark Father shall walk among us.

Well now I understand why the fellow decided help us. If we do not stop the wraiths tommorow it is the end of our world as we know it. There is two options open to us all, give up and die or fight the wraiths and try to stop them and die free. No one has a clue where this Holy place of the wraiths is but we must find it before the wraiths cast their spell. We have little time and we need everyones help. I suggest we make the Paxlair Survival Shop the HQ of this operation. Eli of V*A will be out searching for this place, also the Mayor of paxlair has promised to send scout and Nightstorm of the Ladies of the Lair promised to gather an army. If we all work together we will have a chance to stop the wraiths. Since the wraiths will be casting there spell around 9pm I suggest we all meet up at the PSS at 8pm eastern sky.

Now is not the time to give up, we can still win this battle.

Drake Marsten
Clan Elder

Wild Blood Clan